INAUGURAL BALL DISPENSED WITH

Washington, Jan. 21.—The time honored inaugural ball, the climax of the ceremonies incident to the inauguration of Presidents of the United States will not be given this year. In compliance with President-elect Wilson's wishes the inaugural committee at a special meeting today unanimously decided to eliminate it.

The committee also decided a public reception at the capitol or elsewhere suggested by Governor Wilson as a substitute for the ball was not within its jurisdiction and if one is held Congress must appropriate and make the necessary arrangements for it. The committee took the position that the proposed reception would be purely a governmental function, under the control of the joint congressional inaugural committee. In a resolution adopted, however, the committee announced that it would cooperate in every way possible with all arrangements for the successful inauguration of the President-elect.

The members of the joint congressional committee on the inauguration are Senators Crane, of Massachusetts; Macon, of Georgia, and Overman, of North Carolina, and Representative McKinley, of Illinois; Rucker, of Missouri, and Garrett, of Tennessee. Senator Crane declined today to express an opinion regarding the proposed reception, stating that the matter had not been officially placed before the committee. The suggested reception met with the hearty approval of Representative McKinley.

A WELCOME VISITOR.

Mr. Lloyd M. Dodamead, formerly of this city but now of Hendersonville, was in to see the editor last week. Mr. Dodamead has been living in Hendersonville for two months and says he likes his new home fine and will locate permanently there; that the people are very genial and kind. He was returning home from Raleigh where he attended the inaugural ceremonies.

FOR AYCOCK COUNTY.

Representative Thos. J. Gold, Monday introduced to the house the bill authorizing the granting of Aycock county, with High Point as the county seat. It was referred to the committee on counties, cities and towns, and here's hoping that the report will be favorable.

MARRIAGES.

Married. Sunday night, at the home of Alford Cecil, Mr. Lee Brown and Miss Maudie Walls.

Mr. Arthur Shipman was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Peace the same evening at the home of the bride, Rev. C. C. Wagoner, officiating.

HOW THE ELECTORAL VOTE STOOD.

The Statesville Landmark thinks the news agencies fell down in not giving the full vote cast on Monday of last week when the electors assembled in each state, particularly California. Wilson received 435 electoral votes, Roosevelt 88 and Taft 8. Two California electors voted for Wilson and eleven voted for Roosevelt. Four of Taft's votes came from Utah and four from Vermont. Roosevelt got 11 from California, 15 from Michigan, 12 from Minnesota, 38 from Pennsylvania, 5 from South Dakota and 7 from Washington. All the other votes were cast for Wilson.

HEALTH LEGISLATION.

One of the biggest things coming before the next general assembly is the health of two and one-quarter millions of North Carolinians. For a long time these general assemblies have been buying more or less of that commodity known as public health. Just how much they got no one knew. Why? Simply because no one ever kept any books showing what the state or any of the towns or counties saved in needless deaths as a result of making these appropriations. Why should not health officers be made to show whether or not they are worth their salt? Doubtless many are, but what about the others? If a health officer is a paying officer to a town, county or state it should be known; if he is not, the fact should also be known. But how are the people to know, how can they tell whether or not a health officer is worth his salt? Easily enough. A health officer's business is to reduce sickness and prevent deaths. Now, if this coming legislature will pass a vital statistics law, in a very short time every intelligent citizen will know how the death rate in his town, county or state compares with death rates in neighboring towns, counties and states. Likewise he will know about the death rates for particular diseases. Then it will be easy enough to know when and where and how much to appropriate for, or when, where and how much to cut down on public health appropriations. Let's have a vital statistics law and know the facts.

NEWS FEATURES

We call especial attention in this issue to an account of the inauguration of Gov. Craig, the inaugural address, the news from the legislature, the general news, State news and the usual feature reading. This, in connection with the local news, makes The Review particularly interesting and trust will find favor with all our readers.

BUYS OVERALL PLANT

Mr. A. J. Owens has secured controlling interest in the High Point Overall Company and will take charge in the next 60 days, during which time he will close out his dry goods business on North Main Street.

ANOTHER COTTON MILL

Organized With Capital of $250,000—A Mammoth Structure—12,000 Spindles.

Last Friday, the Highland Cotton mills was organized, with the following officers: J. H. Adams, general manager and president; J. H. Millis, vice president; J. Ed. Millis, treasurer; S. F. Hunsucker, secretary; directors, J. H. Adams, J. H. Millis, Westcott Roberson, R. R. Ragan, J. Ed. Millis, J. A. Clinard and W. C. Jones. The company has been incorporated. The main plant will be 390 feet long by 125 feet wide, of brick and re-inforced concrete. There will also be cotton ware houses and offices for the company. Much work has already been done in the way of excavation and foundation, and by the first of March work on the building will commence with a view to having it completed by July of this year so active operation can begin at that time. There will be 12,000 spindles, which will guarantee a large capacity.

REWARDS OFFERED FOR SURRY OUTLAWS

Rewards of $200 each were declared yesterday by the United States marshal for the arrest of Frank Brooks, G. E. Todd and A. M. Todd, three of the known assailants of Deputy Harkrader and Sheriff Davis in Surry county a few nights ago. Circulars bearing pictures of the men, together with a full description, will be mailed throughout this section today. It is said that the three men were recognized as among the party which waylaid the officers, released a prisoner, beat up the officers and then left them by the roadside handcuffed.

Though deputy marshals and an entire company of soldiers got in the chase not a single member of the band was captured, and last week the deputies returned from the hunt. The search is to be renewed, however, and officers of the section are to be asked to keep an eye out for the three known members of the party.

Deputy Harkrader, who was at first believed to be fatally injured, is now reported to be getting along nicely, though yet showing signs of his fearful punishment. Sheriff Davis only shows a place in his mouth, where two teeth are missing.—Greensboro News.

WITH OUR COUNTRY FRIENDS.

Our long-time friend, Mr. E. V. Swain, of Route 4, paid us a very pleasant visit Saturday afternoon. He is an enthusiastic Aycock County man and is deeply interested in the outcome, as he wants to be nearer a county seat.

Another welcome guest and one of Davidson's foremost citizens, was Mr. Dave Welborn, of Route 1, Thomasville, who called Monday morning. Mr. Welborn is also trusting that Aycock county will be a reality. Says he: "It will open up a market for a fine section and will benefit our farmers greatly as well as High Point and the other towns."

It seems well nigh unanimous for the new county and here's hoping the legislators will do what the Democratic party says it shall do in such cases and give us a chance to submit it to the voters within the boundaries of the proposed new county.

A NEW POEM BY KIPLING.

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you;
But make allowances for their doubts,
And being lied about, don't deal in lies;
Or, being hated, don't give way to hating;
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;
If you can dream—and not make dreams
Your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts
Your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two impostors just
The same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap
For fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life
to broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with
worn-out tools;
If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings,
And never breathe a word about your
loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve
and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the will which says to them:
"Hold on!"
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can
hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none
too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance
run,
Yours is the Earth and everything
that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a Man,
my son!

DEED MADE FOR BIG CONSIDERATION

Two deeds, denoting considerations which totalled $60,000, were filed Tuesday in the office of the register of deeds. The largest was from the Globe Home Furniture Company to Chas. M. Hauser, trustee of the Dalton Syndicate, which conveyed certain real and personal assets at a consideration of $48,709.66. The other deed was from The Snow Lumber Company to the city of High Point, and was a lot on the south side of East Commerce street, containing 13,500 square feet. The consideration was $12,500.

The Review has been approached lately by citizens, asking that a better car service be inaugurated in High Point, as the schedule now requires a wait of about half an hour, whereas it should not be over ten or fifteen minutes at the most. We trust the Public Service company will give High Point what she deserves. It would pay them to do it.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the High Point Manufacturing company, Mr. R. C. Cottam was elected vice-president and general manager. The company will double its capacity and manufacture largely for the export trade. Mr. F. E. Creelman, the president, goes to South America in a few days in the interest of the company.

Mr. McIntyre, of the Rose theater, believes in Aycock county. He has envelopes printed with Aycock county thereon. He calls High Point the golden city, and on the reverse side of the envelope is a unique ad, advertising the city, and calling upon the people to come and live with us, handle the gold, and be happy.

ARE THERE ANY PAUPER COUNTIES?

Answer to the Talk That Some Counties Are Paupers—State Owes Equal Chance.

(H. B. Dougherty in Charlotte Observer)

I have read with regret your editorial of December 13, and also one of later date on "The Pauper Counties."

No county in North Carolina receives aid from a neighboring county for any kind of running expenses. Every county receives aid from the state for public schools. After all the money has been appropriated any county not having a four months' public school may levy a special tax to raise one-half of the deficit and then apply to the state for one-half; therefore, it is to be seen that every citizen living in a "pauper county" pays a higher educational tax than the citizen living in a rich county.

Everyone knows that a county must levy enough tax to meet the county expense and it cannot do this without a corresponding tax for the public schools. So it must be seen that the opportunity for graft is not so great as may first appear.

North Carolina issued first and last $3,000,000 in bonds to construct the new Southern railroad. Many of the cities and towns connected have grown rich. They have enjoyed the opportunities for the building of factories, the starting of many enterprises and the coming of outside wealth. They have not only had the advantages of the railroad, but have prospered from the local tax of this railroad property for the most part owned by the state itself, and yet the "pauper counties" have never murmured.

This is an age of prosperity. The investments made in railroads many years ago bring great revenue to the state treasury. The counties having the railroads and the local tax ought to be willing to allow out-lying counties to share more liberally in the dividends. There can be ward in the development of the public school system. There is a widespread feeling among the farmers that no better use can be found for the state's money than using it for the education of all the children.

An increased school terms is coming. If the present legislature increases the appropriation directly to the public schools from $225,000 to $400,000, it will do the most popular thing it can do. Raise the tax a little and give the people what they want and need—a six months' school.

Again, if the county is the unit and must provide its own school fund, why not the townships? Why not the school district? Why not the family?

If the logic of the Observer is correct the opportunity of every boy or girl in North Carolina must depend upon his proximity to wealth. This is not in accord with the North Carolina spirit.

When the late Governor Aycock made his great campaign in this state he said there should be an educational test for voting, the standard to be the same in every county, and, therefore, an equal opportunity for education in every county. So far as the state was concerned, the boy in the mountains or on the plain, in the city or in the country, should have an equal chance. To this he pledged the state and the state's wealth. He was applauded on the stump as no man ever was before. After establishing the educational standard shall we, this early, condemn this policy of equality, this policy of building and strengthening the entire state?

While we would not press the view just here, there could be produced an abundance of good argument to put all the educational money into the state treasury and appropriate it in such a way as to give every child an equal chance. North Carolina is a unit. County lines should not interfere with the education of our children. No state can be great when even a part of her children are neglected. In spending money for education we must consider the needs, not the source from which money comes.

The building of the railroad by state aid to Durham aided the Carrs and Dukes to make their millions. The city of Durham now pays about 90 per cent. of the taxes of Durham county. Does anyone suppose that the legislature would have made the county of Durham to give better court facilities to the men if they had thought that by so doing they would forever discriminate against the boys and girls left in the county of Orange?

Two years ago I had the opportunity of investigating Wake county, the home of Representative Simms, who introduced the bill providing for the aid of the "pauper counties." To this man's memory a monument should be erected!

Let every county make a fair calculation and this issue will be at an end. I should be glad to see the time come when the state could let every county keep every cent of taxes and maintain the state's expenses from the corporations.

Our state now has more than $2,000,000 income. One-half of this comes from corporations. Five hundred thousand dollars, or one-fourth the income of the state, goes to the Confederate soldiers, who sacrificed the best days of their lives for the honor of our state, who are now slowly but surely stepping from the stage of action. The very counties that furnished the largest numbers—that took the greatest part in the war—must now be stigmatized by a new name—"pauper counties."

Let submit that the county that levies a tax on its own property to meet the state on halfway ground to better the opportunities for her children, is a state pride and not a "state scandal."

I submit that the county that furnishes the most men to protect the honor of the state is a state pride and not a "state scandal."
